

I would like to express my concern over the lack of public debate on the topic of media ownership. It is my opinion that the views of the American people would be an important contribution on this topic. Time must be given for both the people and Congress to consider and discuss the impacts of changes to the current system of media ownership.